

EX-SOLON HAS NO DESIRE TO AGAIN SIT IN UPPER HOUSE

William Alden Smith Back In "Santa Ana Home" Praises Coolidge

KELLOGG IS LAUDED AS NEW SECRETARY

Dawes Will Interest People With Originality Is Prediction Made

BY OLIVE LOPEZ
Like a warm, pleasant breath from the busy and snowy east comes to visit Santa Ana again, ex-Senator William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich., for 26 years occupying an honored seat in the senate of the Congress of the United States.

Although his hair may be a trifle whiter than when I saw the senator last, it is the only sign that he is one whit older, so far as age goes. For one is, after all, only as old as he feels, and being a vital part of the world and its work keeps Senator Smith fit for the part he takes in it.

Second Home Is Here
While receiving the same old warm handclasp, which I have enjoyed so many times, for the senator's second home is in Santa Ana, at 801 French street, where his only sister, Mrs. Ella Campau, lives in a lovely colonial home, I said:

"Well, senator, so many people are wanting to know how you pass your time nowadays, since you are not serving in the senate. They want to know whether you have retired from the strenuous life and are now taking life easy."

The senator's eyes twinkled and he smiled amiably.
"You want to know what I do to occupy myself? Well, you'll be interested to know that I own the Grand Rapids Herald, the paper which I sold upon the streets as an urchin. It is the only morning paper in western Michigan, and one of the two morning editions in the state, the other being the Detroit Free Press."

"I have a very remarkable man as managing editor. He is Frank Vandenberg, who is a well-known newspaper man, and also an author, having written two splendid books, upon his ideal man, Alexander Hamilton. They are 'Alexander Hamilton, the Greatest American,' and 'If Hamilton Were Here Today.'"

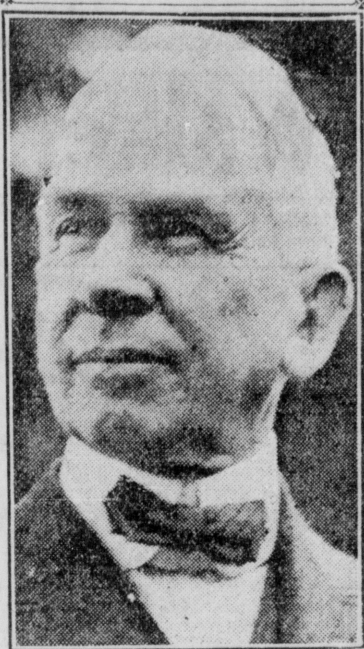

"Where you always in the newspaper game, senator?" I asked. "No," he replied, "I started my professional life as a lawyer in Grand Rapids. However, our family has always had newspaper people in it."

"Then, accidentally, I got into the banking business and am actively connected with the largest

OFFER PRIZES TO PUPILS FOR DAIRY ESSAYS

City Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston today approved a plan submitted by Jay Dutler, representative of the California Dairy Council, for the holding of an essay contest among pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the schools.

Under this plan, cash prizes will be offered to boys and girls of these grades for the best essay on dairy products. The closing period for the contest is February 27. Essays should not contain less than 125 words and not more than 160 words.

The following are the facts which competitors will be required to bring out in their composition:
"What is milk composed of?"
"What will dairy products do for you?"

At the end of each essay, the children must write a menu for a daily properly balanced ration for a growing child.

Children competing will be permitted to secure information from any available source, but the best way to secure information will be to call at the headquarters of the California Dairy Council, at No. 299 North Main street, Santa Ana, between the hours of 1:30 p. m. to 4:15 p. m., February 18, where literature giving necessary information will be given.

It is required that each child competing must write the composition themselves, using their own language and are to have their teacher certify by notation on the essay, the grade in which they are named. The essays will be judged by a committee of citizens and awards will be made as follows:

- First prize ..... $10.00 cash
- Second prize ..... 7.00 cash
- Third prize ..... 5.00 cash
- Fourth prize ..... 3.00 cash
- Fifth prize ..... 2.00 cash
- And eight prizes of . . . 1.00 each

In addition there will be given five orders for one brick of ice cream.

Material for information for scholars will not be given out until February 18.

In all probability not many persons are as fully informed with regard to component parts of dairy products and the value and necessity of dairy products as a food for a growing child, should be. Therefore it will be necessary for children to secure the proper information to succeed with their essays.

SANTA ANA'S NEW SERVICE CLUB TO ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER DANCE ON FRIDAY

The sixth service club will enter the civic life of Santa Ana on Friday evening when the Loyal Knights of the Round Table will celebrate the receipt of their charter with a dinner dance at St. Ann's Inn.

In September Dean Hamilton arrived in Santa Ana from Oakland and started the organization of the Santa Ana Round Table. The Knights of the Long Beach Round Table sponsored the local movement and to date there are more than 30 active members in the newest service club. Application for a charter from the International Round Table has been granted and Clyde C. Downing, president of the Santa Ana Round table, has received word that the charter will be here before the meeting on Friday.

Officers and members of the various service clubs of Santa Ana will be guests of the local club at the meeting Friday. Members of the Round Tables in Long Beach, Pasadena, Los Angeles and Riverside will be in attendance, according to word received from these organizations by President Downing.

The background and foundation for the Loyal Knights of the Round Table date from A. D. 512.

An interesting program has been arranged for the evening of the charter banquet. The program is in the hands of the board of governors of the Santa Ana table.

The program includes continuous concert by the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra during the serving of the dinner. Former members of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company also will furnish selections during the evening. The principal speaker of the evening will be Judge Dunn, formerly of the supreme court of Oklahoma. Judge Dunn now is a resident of Oakland.

Following dinner guests will dance until midnight.

Total Enrollment of Schools Grows New Figures Show

Santa Ana's school enrollment at the beginning of the second semester of the 1924-1925 school year was 6185 as compared with 6036 for the corresponding period of the preceding year, according to City Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston.

While these figures do not register an appreciable increase, they nevertheless exhibit a satisfactory showing considering the general economic conditions of 1924, the superintendent declared.

INDIAN WRITER TO GIVE TALKS HERE

James Willard Schultz, whose Indian name Apikuni, will give a program of talks in the Congregational church here at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The lecture will be free and everyone is invited.

Schultz, who is widely known as a writer of Indian tales, was a member of the Blackfeet tribe for many years, joining them in 1875. He studied their language, and fought with them in their wars against the Crows and other enemies.

When the incoming tide of settlers put an end to this free life of hunting, fighting and adventure, Schultz abandoned the rifle for the pen and soon became widely known for his writings.

The following has been written about him by a historian:
"The most remarkable work that has been done in the western field with the Indian as a character, appears in the little books by James Willard Schultz, who is ignored by literary critics because he writes only of adventure for boys. Would that those who write for men and women had the secret of his method. The heroes of all his tales are a white boy, the son of a fur trader, and his 'almost brother' Pitamakan, a young Blackfeet Indian."

LET CONTRACT FOR 16 MILES OF NEW ROAD

Bridge Between Newport and Huntington Beaches Nears Completion

With the near completion of the bridge on the coast highway between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach and possible opening of the section around March 1, interest in the coast boulevard from Oxnard to Santa Ana has been increased with announcement that the highway commission had awarded the contract to S. Wright Jewett, of Los Angeles, for grading 16 miles of the coast highway between Arroyo Sequit and Las Flores canyon. The work will cost $250,754.30.

The contract price indicates that road building costs are lowering, for the engineer's estimate for the work was $327,967.50, a difference of $77,213.20.

Award of the contract marks one of the final steps in the long battle for a coast highway from Santa Monica to Oxnard. When this contract is completed the only remaining ungraded section of the coast highway between Oxnard and Santa Ana will be the section between Laguna Beach and Santa Ana. It is understood the commission hopes to let a contract for grading this section the latter part of this year or in the early part of the following year, depending upon when funds may become available.

Will Spend $250,000

The commission is preparing to spend approximately $250,000 in Orange county this year in the widening of six miles of the state highway between Gallivan and Capistrano. Bids have been called for construction of a concrete bridge across San Juan creek, just below Capistrano, and it is expected that bids for this highway work will be advertised soon, in time for the contract to be awarded and the work to start around July 1.

The commission has awarded a contract for construction of a division office building and warehouse at San Bernardino for division eight. A future development at San Bernardino will be the erection of a division office building to handle all highway work in San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial counties.

Federal Funds Help
According to Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the commission, award of the two contracts that have been let was made possible by receipt of federal aid funds.

The chairman said that bids soon would be asked for Southern California reconstruction work to be financed from 1925 gasoline and motor vehicle revenues.

Toy also announced that the commission had gasoline tax funds available for bid at Ortega hill, and through Sunland and Carpentaria on the coast highway south of Santa Barbara, as soon as persons interested could agree on routings and permit the commission to secure rights of way.

CHINA BOY LIKEE GET JOBBE "BELONG ANY RELIGION YOU WANT" HE SINGS WRITES LETTER TO REGISTER

By ARVID E. GILMOUNT

Yee Ling, who, as his name implies comes from the land of the "yellow peril" is a good cook. In the chop suey house run by Toey Foy Low on Alameda street in Los Angeles, Yee is rated as an all-around chop suey artist, and what he doesn't know about short orders listed on the menu as "Chow Mein," "Noodles a la Canton," "Shrimp Eggs Foyne" and other delicacies, is not worth knowing.

With the advent of jazz, shingie bobs and "this new freedom" youth Yee Ling has become tired of his job and now wants a change. As a matter of fact, he has developed an ill concealed aversion for kitchen work. In quest of new surroundings, Yee has taken his troubles to The Santa Ana Register.

Writing from his present place of employment, he starts out:

"I hope you will recommend me for a job in Los Angeles to any newspaper office to the editor. I cannot talk very much English but I can use Chinese and English dictionary. Any deep English I want to understand I will find it there.

Believes in Being Brief
As will be seen the opening paragraph is self expressive. No mention is made of his educational training. Being used to taking "short orders," Yee subscribes to the old office motto "be brief." His intellectual background is left to the imagination.

With the indolent tolerance of his race in matters of belief, Yee takes a more sophisticated view of mankind and its religions. "It makes no difference what religion I belong and I can belong to any religion you want me to," he adds with ironical frankness. Maybe Yee has his own ideas about the "seven great shall nots" and the "three great shall nots" as given to Moses. At any rate he cops the grand prize for super-tolerance.

Relies on His Partner
The letter goes on:

"If any story come to me that I cannot make out, I will get someone to make it out for me. I have a partner who understands that line of work. For any country that news come from I can take care of it. Theory and editorial every-day I will put in newspaper."

Modesty and bashfulness are words unknown to his working vocabulary, and in his own entertaining style he lets it be known that his well developed facility for poetic imagery needs richer experiences than the chop suey restaurant can offer. To quote his own words:

"I learn in the Chinese school and am very intelligent. I have been writing fifteen or sixteen years and know how to write poems. If there was a hundred students you would not find another like me. I don't want to be cook any more, and if the newspaper could use me I can be very useful to them."

"I have very good ideas" he continues, a superfluous remark as there must be little doubt on that score judging from his letter.

The road traveled by the Chinese lad has apparently been a stormy one for in the closing paragraph he complains about bad luck, adding that while there is nothing wrong with his appetite he simply doesn't seem to get strong — just feels like "the Hindu star gazer who believes in the sky temple."

JUNIOR C. C. WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Election of officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will take place March 9, it was announced at the directors' session held yesterday at Ketter's cafe.

It is probable that an entertainment and inaugural ball will be held March 23 with the retiring officers hosts to the incoming chiefs. Plans for the proposed affair will be decided upon at a later date.

The next meeting of the chamber will be next Monday night, at Ketter's. Included on the program will be a debate between high school students on the civic center proposition and probably a talk by Mrs. Wallace Reid. Jess Elliott, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported at yesterday's meeting that he believed Mrs. Reid will be able to speak at the gathering. A program of music is planned, Elliott said.

Following the reading of a letter from A. L. Oliver, secretary of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, the directors went on record as being desirous of assisting the senior body in anything that will benefit Santa Ana.

NAME COMMITTEES FOR P.-T. A. SHOW

Committees for the benefit entertainment which the high school P.-T. A. will give in the high school auditorium Friday night, starting at 7:30 o'clock, were announced today by Mrs. J. M. Burlew, president.

The ticket committee is composed of Mrs. Charles Stewart, chairman, and Mrs. G. D. Linsenbard. The candy committee is composed of Mrs. E. T. Batey and Mrs. W. H. Thomas. The candy sellers will be Helen Batey, Lucile Bales, Margaret Carothers, Loretta Spangler, Eleanor Riardon and Mabel Robertson.

Tickets for the entertainment have been placed on sale at the following places: Santa Ana Book store, Sam Stein's, Lindsey Shop, Shop for Boys, Victor Walker's, White Cross Drug store, J. C. Horton Furniture store and at the high school.

Jerome Shaffer, Laguna Beach entertainer and the high school orchestra will provide the entertainment. The proceeds will go into the organization's scholarship fund for the education of deserving boys and girls.

CITY COUNCIL PLANS 5-MILL TAX LEVY FOR LOCAL PARKS

Planning Board Advises Ordinance to Control Planting of Trees

RECOMMENDS UNIFORM ST. PARKING SYSTEM

Wrecking of Ornamental Light Standards Is to Be Probed By Police

The city council today had under consideration recommendations of the city planning commission that the council adopt an ordinance with teeth in it sufficient to give the commission authority to control the planting and removal of trees in street parkings and that at the next election the council submit to the voters the proposition of a special levy of five mills on the $100 assessed valuation for the upkeep of city parks.

The commission directed attention to the number of subdivisions that have been added and that are in prospect and suggested that there should be control of the parkings that would make street improvements uniform.

Suggestion was made that a committee of three be appointed, one member each from the council, the street department and the commission, to superintend the planting, trimming and removal of trees in street parkings.

W. G. Knox, former street superintendent and city engineer, was appointed a member of the commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation some months ago of E. V. S. Pomeroy.

To Probe Standard Damage
City Marshal Claude Rogers was directed by the council to instruct his officers to obtain all possible information on parties responsible for the wrecking of ornamental lighting standards on the systems in the city. Mayor J. W. Tubbs pointed out that during 1924 the city spent $1500 in repair of standards broken in automobile collisions, and that it was the intention in the future to make parties responsible pay the costs of repairs. He asserted the damage done posts was largely the result of carelessness.

The council approved an offer of the Pacific Lighting company, organized by M. E. Beatty, for transfer of the standard on the southeast corner of Fifth and Broadway to the corner of Flower and West Fourth to replace a wrecked standard at that point.

The iron standard on the Broadway corner will be supplemented by a marble post, to be left in position at the pleasure of the council. The marble post is being installed as a sample post.

Grant C. of C. $500
The chamber of commerce was granted an appropriation of $500 from the advertising fund to pay for the printing of 10,000 pamphlets the chamber proposes issuing soon.

The Standard Oil company was awarded a contract for supplying the city with gasoline for one year, at its bid of 13 1/2 cents per gallon. The contract, according to City Attorney Z. B. West Jr., protects the city against an advance in price and gives the city the benefit of lowering quotations.

The estimated consumption of the city is 3000 gallons per month. The Shell and Standard Oil companies were declared to be the only regular bidders. Other wholesale companies submitting offers had

Worn Out Since the Grip?

WEAK, nervous—just tired and miserable most of the time? Back lame and achy, too? Rheumatic pains torture you at every step?

Then you should look to your kidneys! Colds and chills are apt to weaken the kidneys and allow toxic poisons to upset blood and nerves. Then may come daily backache, stabbing pains, headaches, dizziness, and irregular or painful passage of the kidney secretions.

Don't risk neglect. Help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills. Doan's have brought new health to thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Here is Santa Ana Proof:

R. M. Wallace, 848 N. Parton St., says: "I had such severe backache I had to lay off work for a week at a time. I was lame and stiff mornings and my kidneys never acted regularly. Doan's Pills just suited my case and a short use of them rid me of all signs of kidney complaint."

Many Happy Events
Mark Season of St. Valentine

First Anniversary
The first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Lassiter (Miss Dorothy Clem) of 1316 South Flower street was celebrated in a happy manner as a valentine party planned by Mrs. Lassiter's mother and sister, Mrs. C. E. Clem of this city and Mrs. Charles C. Schultz of Torrance.

Their plans were kept a profound secret from the hosts who were completely surprised at the arrival of the guests early in the evening. The lively game of hearts was introduced and Alfred Priess proved most proficient, thus winning first prize while Mrs. Priess was awarded consolation for holding low score.

After the evening at cards, the guests enjoyed an appetizing two-course supper planned by Mrs.
Clem and Mrs. Schultz and served at tables gay with valentine appointments. The opportunity was taken at the supper hour, to shower Mr. and Mrs. Lassiter with gifts appropriate to the first anniversary.

Enjoying the evening with the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Priess, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Copeland and Little Son Royal Kinsey Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tournat, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Watson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clem and their sons, Kenneth and Elmer Clem, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C.
Schultz of Torrance and their children, Phyllis-Jeanne and Charles Jr.

Children Make Merry
Little Miss Bonnie Blake Hamilton's eighth birthday was made a very happy valentine event of last Saturday afternoon at the home of Hamilton, 1103 North Main street where Bonnie Blake's little friends gathered for a merry afternoon.

All manner of games were introduced by Miss Glee Hamilton, "big sister" of the honoree, and after the lively interval of games, the children were delighted to be seated around a valentine table adorned with dainty baskets and with gay streamers swaying from the chandelier above. Ice cream, wafers and candies were served with a delicious birthday cake bearing Bonnie Blake's name and the date.
Many pretty gifts were showered on the little maid, but her most treasured one was a telegram from her brother, Dwight C. Hamilton from Newport News, Va., stating that the S. S. George Allen upon which he is purser and radio operator, was sailing soon for the Canal Zone, which means he will soon be home again after a long trip to South America and thence to eastern seaports.

Sharing the happy birthday with Bonnie Blake were Virginia Bishop, Harriet Russell, Margaret Rulan, Barbara Pease, Constance Barnett, Mary Zaiser, Frances Tibbetts, Jean Sherrill, Carolyn Davies and Mary Schrock.

Birthday Celebration
The seventy-eighth birthday of Mrs. Margaret Lannan of 514
Hickey street, which was a valentine event of February 14, was celebrated in a happy manner both Saturday and Sunday.

On the birthday itself, Mrs. Lannan was honor guest at a pleasant dinner presented by her granddaughter, Mrs. Fred C. Watkins.
Covers were laid for Mrs. Lannan, Mrs. Anna Shorten and Mr. and

Altar Society

The members of St. Joseph's Altar society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. M. Banks, the president, 702 Spurgeon street, who will be assisted by Mrs. J.
P. Murphy, first vice president.
Both are relinquishing office at this meeting, the new staff stepping into the work, headed by Mrs. Scharles Schmiedeberg.

Unitarian Alliance

A business and social meeting of the Unitarian Woman's Alliance will be held in the church social rooms tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All interested members and friends are urged to be present and hear an interesting paper on the life of the Rev. Mr. Channing, prepared and presented by Mrs. Robinson.

Missionary Society

Tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the First M. E. church, the Woman's Foreign Missionary society will meet at 2:30 o'clock to continue their study of the mission book, "Ming Quong", with Mrs. A. McGarough conducting the study hour. A group of children under the direction of Miss Ella Hale will present a pretty missionary play.

Mrs. Watkins and daughter Virginia. However the real celebration of the anniversary came on the following day since many of the relatives could not be present on Saturday.

Such relatives and friends to the number of fifteen, assembled Sunday forenoon with well-filled picnics, to enjoy a birthday picnic and a most happy day was spent.
The baskets disclosed delicious picnic fare and Mrs. Lannan was given the place of honor at a table where the following guests were seated: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ingram and son of Azusa, Mr. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. John Dren-ning, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Watkins and daughter Virginia of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ingram of Hollywood; Mrs. Julia Hanger ford, Mrs. Anna Ingram, and the Misses Daisy, Cora and Jessie Ingram of Los Angeles.

Colonial Party
A merry company of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Bess Simmons, a young matron living in the west part of the community, on the afternoon of Friday the thirteenth. Several came from quite a distance but the merriment during the afternoon well repaid their efforts.

At a late hour in the afternoon a delicious fruit salad with wafers, cookies and tea was served on small tables most prettily decorated.

There were twenty-three guests present, Mesdames Flora Dolbee, Marie Knight, Anna Johnson, Eita
Sweet, Mary Meyers, Laura Dun-ton, Jean Tibbetts, Mary Nunn, Luella Stewart, Leola Dietrich, Meta Spahr, Maxie Wilson, Cora Breeding, Anna Cozad, Trena Johnson, Anna Miller, Jane Dunning, Mamie
McDonnell, Galeria Gredis, Carrie Huckstep, Gladys Moore, Sund-strom and Simmons.

Colonial Days Are Revived By Ebell
Tea Hostesses

The wheels of time turned backward yesterday for a happy interval during the afternoon when members and guests of Ebell society gathered at the clubhouse for a delightful colonial tea sponsored by Mrs. E. L. Morrison and her aides.
The affair was most picturesque and the quaintly beautiful gowns of the earlier periods in American history had an admirable setting in the spacious assembly rooms and corridors of the clubhouse.
Decorations were all in harmony with the gowns and a program contributed by the Music section emphasized that romantic period more fully.

The artists appearing were all beautifully costumed and in every respect the program was one of the most colorful ever presented. Mrs.
Harry Hayes in charming gown was heard in the beautiful old favorite,
"Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and was responding with "Still as the Night," exquisitely interpreted. Miss Leonore Tompkins in pompadour silk and plumed hat, was her accompanist as she was for all the remaining numbers with the exception of the songs by the Pollock Sisters.

These two talented young girls,
the Misses Marjorie and Florine Pollock charmingly sang to the piano accompaniment of their mother, "Be My Valentine" followed by
"When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Mrs. Mitt Phillips, a charter member of Ebell club, all in rose color with a quaint bonnet, sang
"My Pretty Jane" and a delightful old English ballad. Graceful little Miss Carrie Kimball in hoop skirts and lace pantalets, read "When Grandma Danced the Minuet" and then in company with little Miss Marjory Wender, in a clever George Washington costume, danced the stately old dance.

A revue of period frocks followed.
Miss Inez Cloyes wearing a wedding gown and dolman worn in St.
Louis in 1855; Mrs. A. W. Ames in a gown of the Civil War period; Mrs. William Smart in frock and bonnet worn by her sister at the baccalaureate services when she graduated from college in 1857;

Mrs. J. B. Stewart in dress and hat dating back to 1865; Mrs. C. G.
Chapman in a costume of the early eighties; Mrs. Mitt Phillips in a Civil War frock and shawl; Mrs.
Florence Hawkins in a gown from a bridal trousseau of 1851; Miss Florine Pollock in an 1830 period frock and Mrs. W. H. Mc-Peak in a Civil War costume.

Costume accessories included quaint bonnets, lace mitts, adorable parasols, shawls and dolmans. The members of the revue posed in a lovely tableau while Mrs. Hayes sang "An Old-Fashioned Garden."

Later tea was served by the Music section in the banquet room where tables were charming with old silver and candelabrum loaned

Ebell Gardeners

Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock members of the Ebell Garden section will assemble in the section room of the clubhouse for an important business meeting. An interesting phase of the morning will be the practical demonstration of budding and grafting to be offered by Mrs. George Ford, an expert in such work and who has been connected with local nurseries for several years.

Mrs. Ford will demonstrate such work on shrubs, trees and rose bushes and the event is expected to attract the entire section membership.

St. Elizabeth's Guild

A special meeting of St. Elizabeth's Guild of the Church of the Messiah, has been called for tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social rooms of the church.
All members are urged to be present as important business matters are to arise.

Nurses Association

At the Orange county hospital, Friday afternoon, February 20, at 2:30 o'clock, members of District 16, California Nurses' Association will meet for an interesting program to be directed by Miss Beck, county laboratory technician.

by Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. E.
M. Nealley; china over 100 years old loaned by Mrs. C. G. Chapman, and quantities of old-fashioned nosegays. Atmosphere was given by a spinning wheel loaned by Mrs. W. W. Anderson, a beautiful lace shawl belonging to Mrs. S. L.
Randall, and other colonial articles.

Brewing the fragrant tea were Mrs. J. H. Tompkins and Mrs. C.
T. Wells of the music section, each with colonial gowns, powdered hair and beauty patches, while pouring and serving was gracefully done by Mrs. C. F. Crose, Miss Pauline Parsons, Mrs. George S.
Smith, Mrs. E. H. Prince, Mrs.
Theo. Winbiger, Mrs. John Wehr-ly, Miss Lenore Tompkins, Miss Peggie Drake and Mrs. Hayes.

The Music section cleared $30 for the piano fund.

In the lounge where needlework was enjoyed, Miss Cloyes and Mrs.
W. W. Anderson presided while Mrs. A. N. Zerman, Mrs. J. A.
Gardner and Mrs. Mitchell had charge of card tables. Mrs. F. M.
Robinson, Mrs. J. B. Stewart and Mrs. W. B. Williams had charge of guest registration.

Among out-of-town guests present were cousins of the hostess, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, Mrs. James Dalby and Mrs. Benjamin Brown of Long Beach while many other guests were attracted by the unique event.

Wedded In Long Beach
Were Popular Young
Santa Anans

Coming as the culmination of a Santa Ana High school romance was a quietly charming valentine wedding of Saturday morning, February 14 when Miss Theima Kins, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. King, was united in marriage to Cecil J. Birtcher, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J.
Birtcher.

The young people chose to have their wedding solemnized in Long Beach, and accompanied by a few close friends, motored to that city where the Rev. Alfred J. Hughes, pastor of Grace Methodist church, read the impressive ceremony assisted by his brother, the Rev.
James H. Hughes, assistant pastor of the local First M. E. church and a close friend of the groom.

Guests at the wedding included Miss Marian Baker of Los Angeles, Miss Della Iman, Edward Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Northrup. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a short motor trip and upon their return will receive their friends in the attractive home which they will establish at 910
West Second street.

Both bride and groom were Santa Ana High school graduates, and Mr. Birtcher was a student at University of Southern California.
He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, the national music fraternity. His bride has much histrionic ability and will be remembered for her work in various Community plays, notably "Potash and Permuter" and
"The Fortune Hunter." Since completing high school she has been in the offices of Kaufman and Martel and John A. Henderson.

On the day preceding the marriage of Miss King and Mr. Birtcher, the bride-elect was complimented at a valentine shower given at the home of Miss Della Iman on West Camille street with Miss Iman and Mrs. Orville Northrup as co-hostesses.

Hearts and cupid's were much in evidence in all decorative appointments and the guests were introduced to one lively valentine contest after another. The principal event was a valentine hunt which yielded a pretty trophy for each guest and a gaily decorated little wagon filled with vividly wrapped packages, for Miss King. These proved to be lovely gifts in wide variety which will find their place in the new home.

At the supper hour the same vivid red and white color scheme was followed and refreshments were dainty and delicious.

The guest list included the Misses Floye Allen, Glenn Allen, Murrel Rash, Melvina Frye, Charlotte Morrison, Holly Lash, Eva Iman, Winifred Iman, Mesdames
J. R. Birtcher, W. W. Perkins Jr.,
E. E. Martin, Louis Allen, E. F.
Matthews, Inez Iman, O. D. King and the entertaining hostesses, Miss Della Iman and Mrs. Northrup.

their daughters of this new way in woman's hygiene

MOTHERS today are telling their daughters of Kotex—the new way in woman's personal hygiene now employed by 5 million women.

Kotex is a sanitary pad made of super-absorbent Cellucotton. It absorbs instantly 16 times its own weight in moisture. It is 5 times as absorbent as cotton.

Each Kotex pad is in itself an active deodorant, being permeated with a newly discovered secret disinfectant. It is easily disposed of —without the least bother or annoyance.

Kotex is packed in sanitary sealed packages of 12—in 2 sizes: Regular, and Kotex-Super (extra large).

Jung Arch Braces

No more tired, aching feet. No more pains in the arch, base of the toes, heel, instep or ankle. No more cramped toes or callouses. No more shooting pains in calf, knee and thigh.

Jung Arch Braces have changed all this. Millions who have suffered all sorts of pains and aches, and tried every other way to gain relief, found in Jung Arch Braces the immediate and permanent foot comfort they so long desired.

You can walk, stand, dance, enjoy outdoor sports, without a qualm or a twitch of pain.

Forgotten are the old-fashioned, inconvenient stiff arch props and metal plates.
For you wear Jung Arch Braces without knowing they are there. No longer need you wear broad, ungainly shoes. You can wear the most stylish lasts, the narrowest and lightest of shoes, and your feet won't suffer the penalty.

Jung Arch Braces are made in two styles. Jung's "Wonder" Arch Brace which retails for $1.00 per pair is for the average case of foot trouble and necessary for short feet. Jung's "Miracle" Arch Brace retailing for $1.50 per pair, is extra wide and is for more severe cases, stout people or those having long or thick feet. Both styles are made in flesh or black. In twelve sizes, to assure a perfect fit. Get a pair today and experience per-

Founded by men of vision, integrity and sincerity of purpose are typical of the West, fostered and developed by men who have placed a proper value on ethical business procedure, the company has flourished and grown even beyond the most sanguine expectations of its founders. In 19 years the assets of West Coast Life have increased from $231,916 to almost ELEVEN MILLION DOLLARS. Its insurance in force has increased from $250,000 to more than SEVENTY MILLIONS. No more striking proof of the company's ability and intent to effectively serve the people of the West could be offered. West Coast Life Service is a Service that Endures. It is built on Permanency. West Coast Life is an institution of the West, for the West and in the West.

Albers flapjack flour

Here is the pancake flour the West takes to its heart—and its stomach. And you don't have to be a "sharp" at cross-word puzzles to figure out the reason: flavor!

No other pancake flour can hope to rise to the flavor-heights of Flapjack; because no other pancake flour is blended in quite the same way. For instance:

No cornmeal or other heavy ingredient goes into Albers Flapjack Flour. The leavening is highest-quality. Even the salt used is as fine in texture as the flour itself. Everything that goes into Flapjack Flour goes in for just one reason:

To make sure you'll get light-and-airy, tender-and-tasty hot cakes every time. Simply add a little water or milk and bake on a hot griddle.

Albers stands for better breakfasts

S. A. LIBRARY GETS ANOTHER LOT OF BOOKS

Lovers of books have a varied collection to choose from in the number of new books which have arrived at the Santa Ana Public Library. Books on science, religion, travel and others are numbered among those announced by the library board, this week.

The new books are as follows: Bodley, Homer, "The Fourth R"; The fourth "R" stands for righteousness. A plea for the inclusion in all educational textbooks of those elements of instruction of nature and promote the spirit of altruism.

Hornblow, Arthur, "Training for the Stage"—The requirements of the individual who aspires to success and the delights and illusions of stage life. For the amateur, the professional and the student.

Hutton, Edward, "Naples and Southern Italy"—Full of historical and legendary lore, flavored with humor and an infectious enthusiasm for the beauty and charm of Italy.

McGovern, W., "To Lhasa in Disguise"—Tibet, and especially Lhasa, its capital city is guarded from outsiders by fanatic natives. No white man before Dr. McGovern ever contrived to get into, and live in Lhasa long enough to photograph and study the Tibetans at close range.

Nagley, F. A., "Brains in Business"—An effort to furnish the young man turning the corner of success with helpful inspiration. A volume of practical self-help.

Pelphs, W. L., "As I Like It"—The papers from which this volume is composed, formed monthly chronicle in Scribner's magazine. In Professor Phelps' inimitable style.

Robson, V. E., "The Fixed Stars and Constellations in Astrology"—Places before the student as complete and systematized account as possible of all that has ever been written about the stars from an astrological point of view.

Van Vaguenes, T. F., "Beacon Lights of Science"—Grouped in their proper perspective we see them. The mathematicians, astronomers, biologists, chemists, physicists and many another, a complete roster of "beacon lights."

Victor, A. C. ed., "A Woman's Quest"—The light story of Marie E. Zakreuska who landed in the country, an immigrant girl of twenty-four, her notable career and experiences.

Wells, F. L., "Pleasure and Behavior"—Discussion of the various modes and channels through which humanity derives its enjoyment by liberation of its energies, and the innate trend of human nature.

5 VAUDEVILLE ACTS ON YOST BILL TONIGHT

Five acts of vaudeville, booked by the Western Vaudeville association, a subsidiary of the great Orpheum circuit, will be featured at the Yost theater here tonight and tomorrow. A summary of the acts follows:

Florence York and a talented company of five girl musicians and vocalists should make a big hit with local vaudeville patrons with their "Ye Olden Days Modernized." The costumes and scenery are about all that revert back to the "Olden Days" for their program is up-to-the-minute.

Charles Kenna presents his original monologue, "The Street Fakir." As a general thing, the street fakir is the most artistic bunco known to the science of extracting elusive coin from padlocked jeans. The street fakir plies his profession usually with the assistance of a gasoline torch and a more or less silver tongue.

It is a long jump from the Indian tepees and wild western atmosphere of Oklahoma plains to the concert platforms of England and America, but that is exactly what has been accomplished by the Indian born girl who now styles herself as Princess Winona.

Another exceptional act is promised by Lutes Brothers. Theirs is said to be one of the most unusual acts in vaudeville. Two brothers, one Clara A. Lutes, offer it, Clara being armless. The work consists of an exhibition of stunts done by Clara A. Lutes, (whose name is featured) with his feet, using them both as though the absence of his arms and hands doesn't handicap him in the least.

Frank and Gertrude Butler present "The Dancing Girl." Theirs is an act that is refreshing, in that it is different from the usual man and woman acts appearing in vaudeville.

"BLACK LIGHTNING" AT YOST TONIGHT
James P. Hogan, director of "Black Lightning," current attraction at the Yost theater, is one of the few directors of pictures which have been extremely successful financially to his credit, and yet, Hogan is a very young man. Among his most successful screen features were "The Skywayman," the film in which Omar Locklear, the daredevil aviator was killed, and "Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?"

Like so many of the present leaders of the motion picture industry, Hogan started in at the very bottom. His first job was driving the director's automobile, from which position he was quickly raised to property man. Following a short time as property man, Mr. Hogan advanced fast until today he stands out as one of the foremost directors of screen attractions.

See the demonstration on Sanatto, Wall Blend, at the T. O. Paint Store, 608 N. Main St., all next week.

Victor, A. C. ed., "A Woman's Quest"—The light story of Marie E. Zakreuska who landed in the country, an immigrant girl of twenty-four, her notable career and experiences.

Wells, F. L., "Pleasure and Behavior"—Discussion of the various modes and channels through which humanity derives its enjoyment by liberation of its energies, and the innate trend of human nature.

"PORTS OF CALL" NOW AT WEST END

Swaying palms, warm sunshine, the deep blue sea, ships swinging lazily at anchor—in a word, the tropics—that is the setting for the main action of the film drama "Ports of Call," starring Edmund Lowe, which is the current attraction at the West End theater. It is the story of a man who is supposed to be the victim of unreasoning fear, due to prenatal influence. After many pulse quickening adventures the leading character finds his inner strength. By the exertion of will power he proves his courage. But the deeper current running throughout the tale is a poignant love theme. Last night's audience indicated that the screen creation possessed a great deal to hold their interest. As entertainment the film should find a kindly reception.

W. O. Shanks was given permission to locate a second-hand clothing store at 210 North Birch street. Petition for paving North Lyon street, First to Palm, was referred to the engineer for checking.

HAS NO DESIRE TO AGAIN BE SENATOR

Institution in Michigan outside of Detroit, the Grand Rapids Savings bank. I was its president for years and am now chairman of the board of directors."

Conditions Are Good
"Then you are in a position to know quite well about business in your state. Are things prosperous there?"

"Things with us are very encouraging. Our bank has 65,000 depositors, and we have opened up 1000 new accounts every month for the past two years."

"What is the secret of your progress?" I asked, and the senator replied, "Our many factories. Detroit is conceded to be the largest furniture manufacturing center in the world."

Quizzing Senator Smith farther in order to hear of business conditions from the great state on the lake, he said that he is the chairman of the board of directors of the Goodrich Transit company, which has the largest fleet of passenger and freight steamers on Lake Michigan, which play between Chicago and Mackinaw island.

No Hanking for Congress
"Would you like to go back to Congress, senator?" was another question I put. "Oh, no indeed. I put in twenty-six years of my life down there. (He always speaks of Washington as down there) and I think I have done my duty."

Right here I might state that Senator Smith was a true friend to California while in the senate, although he was a man who stood, not only for his own state, Michigan, but for the whole country. California owes much to him for his interest in harbors, and in industrial and agricultural affairs.

Knows President Well
The senator says, however, that he often goes down to the capital city to see his old friends, and he knows President Coolidge very well. Senator Capper of Kansas occupies the Smith home there.

"What do you think of the President?" I asked somewhat cautiously.

Mr. Smith was walking around over the lovely big living room, with its crackling fire in the large chimney-place, happy to be at home again, (for he calls this home also) but now he stopped in front of me and smiled reminiscently.

"Well, he said, 'I know Coolidge well. We campaigned together in Massachusetts when he was running for lieutenant governor and again when he ran for governor, but I had not seen him since the campaign closed at Tremont temple the night before the election when he was made governor until last December when I was in Washington."

"I think very highly of him. He handles international relations with rare intelligence and broad discernment. He is modest and unpretentious, though sympathetic and patriotic. And nobody can put anything over on him," said Smith emphatically.

Having thus started my interesting friend to talk about the big men of the day, I asked, "Do you know Ambassador Kellogg, the new secretary of state?"
"Very well," Senator Smith replied. "I served with him in the senate for a number of years. He is an able man, clear-headed and diligent and he will make a good secretary of state." And then, a little sadly, "But I am indeed sorry to see Hughes go. I have known every secretary of state since James G. Blaine, and I have never known a more able, more conscientious man in that position. He has occupied a place in the cabinet and in the country which it will be most difficult to fill."

"And how about Charles B. Warren of your state? Will he represent us well as attorney-general?"
"I unhesitatingly reply, 'Yes.' He is worthy in every way, both as a lawyer and as a man. He has never sought public place, but has always been interested in business. He was one of the first to develop the sugar beet business and his work in that field has been creditable. He is a straight shooter and a methodical thinker and will make a good attorney-general if the senate ratifies his appointment."

I was a little afraid the senator might be getting weary of my many inquiries, but anyway I asked, "Do you know General Daves personally?"

"Yes," he again said. "He first came into public notice during McKinley's first campaign, when he was controller of the currency, where he made an excellent record. He held no public office until the world war, the country being familiar with his service. The senate may look forward with pleasant anticipation to his arrival as presiding officer. He will interest the people with his originality, his uniqueness, and his blunt courage will make him the center of a great deal of political speculation."

Fond of California

Senator Smith will stay in Santa Ana two weeks, visiting with his sister, and plans to look over the southland quite a bit while here, he says. He notes with pleasure the progress of our city, and laughed when I asked him if he had heard some of the frightful accusations about the state being made in the east.

"Oh, don't pay any attention to that. California has a fine reputation and deserves it. She needs no special pleader."

I could have stayed there asking questions quite a while longer but I saw that it was nearly one o'clock, and after the senator had consented to go out onto the lawn for a picture, I took my leave, hoping to have the good fortune to talk again to the man so vitally interested in the life of the country, and one having its affairs and its interests so well in hand.

I shall always remember with keen interest and gratitude my first assignment for an interview with a "big" man, and it was the beginning of my friendship with United States Senator William Alden Smith, who was then chairman of the Rivers and Harbors committee of the senate. When he arrived in Santa Ana, Mrs. Campau made an appointment for me, and I was "pretty" scared, as my interview was to appear in a Los Angeles daily. The senator saw that I had stage fright, and he said: "Do you know that I think I had better write this for you. I always like to be quoted correctly, and this rivers and harbors question is quite delicate. You know I'm also newspaper folk."

Imagine my delight! And, say, my paper complimented me very highly upon my article, and I had many more such assignments while I was its correspondent, but no one else, man or woman, has ever offered to write my "stuff" for me.

Fights and Fighetrs

BOSTON—Lou Bogash, Bridgeport middleweight, won from Tiger Flowers, Atlanta, on a foul in the third round.

PORTLAND, Maine—Eddie Martin, bantamweight champion, won a 12 round decision from Willie Spencer, New York.

CHICAGO—A Dempsey-Gibbons championship fight may be staged in California next spring or later, Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, announced. Kane said he has been approached by Golden State promoters but would not reveal further facts.

NIGHT COUGH QUICKLY RELIEVED

This is the substance of a letter received from H. W. Webb, Quincy, Ill. "I coughed a great deal, especially at night. Tried almost everything and have found nothing to equal FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. One dose relieved my cough and I rested well all night." One of the largest selling cough medicines in the world. Contains no opiates. Safe for children. Insist upon Foley's. Refuse substitutes. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

APPOINTED AGENTS FOR COMPANY HERE

Prior and Sildoway, 208 West Second street, today had become Santa Ana representatives of the West Coast Life Insurance company, through appointment by A. W. Albrecht, who recently became manager for the company of the Orange county district.

Pointing out that the company had revised its previous methods of handling agencies, Albrecht said under the district plan responsible agents were being appointed in different communities with a view to giving policy holders and stockholders in each community a more closely associated personal service. C. ("Cal") E. Prior, who is the insurance man of the local firm, has been engaged for many years in both fire and life underwriting, and will give his personal attention to the business of the West Coast Life, a state organized and owned company.

Starting operations in March, 1926, with $529,000 insurance in force, the company today has insurance in excess of $77,000,000.

"Last year was a most successful period for the company from the standpoint of new policy writing and from the standpoint of the persistency of its old business," Prior said. "The large percentage of renewals sets a new high mark for persistency of old insurance and indicates the confidence the policy holders have in the company."

Stating that the company covers nearly every type of insurance, Prior said that group insurance offered by the company is becoming very popular with employing concerns and organizations. Through this department death and disability coverage for employees without medical examination is offered to employers.

Now Used For LUMBAGO

During the past winter thousands of people have used Joint-Ease with such remarkable success in the treatment of the most severe cases of lumbago that we are but doing our duty when we say to the public: "When Joint-Ease goes in—lumbago goes out." A penetrating external remedy for painful, swollen and stiff joints—60 cents a tube—at all pharmacies.—Adv.

Chewing Gum— Good Clothes—Rugs

What is the first thought of the cosmetic manufacturer as he plans a new soap? Attractiveness of the package.

What is the first thought of the automobile manufacturer as he plans the series for next year? Lines of the car.

What is the first thought of the rug maker as he weaves his rugs? Beauty of the rug design.

What is the first thought of the architect planning a new structure? Appearance of the finished building.

What is the first thought of the chewing gum producer? An inviting wrapper.

And so it goes with all things—with window display of merchandise, with the cover of a magazine, with the entrance to a theater—appearance comes first. The wise business man knows attractive appearance is half the battle. A thing of beauty, pleasing design, or inviting appearance is half sold.

And so it is with man. The well dressed man holds the inside position in the race for success.

When great manufacturers, artisans and producers place appearance first, how can ambitious men neglect the importance of appearance in themselves.

As the manufacturer sells his product by appearance so men sell themselves by appearance.

You would think little of any product put out in a shabby package. You would say: "It cannot be good, it doesn't look it."

In the same way one man looks at another dressed in shabby clothes and says: "He cannot be much, he doesn't think much of himself, look at the way he dresses."

A man's dress is a plain statement of his personal opinion of himself.

Dress Well and Succeed

HOW TO ANSWER BLIND CLASSIFIED ADS
In answering blind addresses (for instance, L. Box 32, L. Register, or other similar addresses), please be careful to use the precise address given in the ad. Write address plainly. Letters brought to the Register office do not require stamps. Always enclose your answer in a sealed envelope.
T. F. (TILL FORBID) ADS
If an advertiser who has no application for credit and opened an account with The Register Credit Department in the regular form of advertisement published continually "until further notice," he may do so by signing a "Till" order to that effect. An advertisement thus begun will appear regularly until countermanded by written order.
BOX OFFICE REPLY
The Register postoffice department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish answers to come to the office. Advertisers furnished with identification cards, which must be presented at the Register office. For the protection of our patrons, replies are not given out except on presentation of box card.
No record is kept of the names and addresses of patrons using the Register postoffice, and therefore these advertisers can be supplied. A charge is made for the words "Box A-234, care The Register."

Makes Autos Go 49 Miles on One Gallon of Gas

Sious Falls, S. Dak.—James A. May of 1362 La-cotah Bldg., has perfected a new device that cuts down gas consumption, removes all carbon, prevents spark plug trouble and overheating. Many cars have made over 48 miles on a gallon. Any one can install it in five minutes. Mr. May wants agents, and is offering to send one free to one auto owner in each locality. Write him today.—Adv.

FEATHERS DECIDE SUIT

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Charles Donovan won his suit to recover a turkey gobbler, when his small son testified he had pulled two feathers from the bird to provide appropriate headdress for the part of an Indian, which he was to play in a school entertainment. The bird was brought into court and the two feathers found to be missing.

"KEEP HEADS STRAIGHT"

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The will of Admiral Sir Percy Scott, British naval gunnery expert, leaves his estate of more than $500,000 to his two children, with a direction to the executors that they try "to keep their heads straight."

BIRD HERO DEAD

PARIS, Feb. 17.—A feathered hero of the World war has died of old age. He was known as Carrier Pigeon No. 183-14 AF, and received the Medaille Militaire for "bravery and gallantry at Verdun." On one occasion he saved a large body of French soldiers who were surrounded and deprived of all means of communication.

That Motor Car of Yours

Heart-to-Heart Talks With Automobile Owners and Drivers on How to Get the Most Out of Their Cars at the Least Expense

BY WILLIAM ULLMAN

NOW YOU KNOW

Yes, the starter button should be pressed so as to make the best possible contact. Don't touch it gingerly, or in telegraph fashion. The better the circuit from the battery to the starter the more current will flow and the more starting torque there will be exerted upon the engine.

No, an extra oversize tire is not a good substitute for a true balloon tire. It increases your wheels circumference, decreases power and causes the chains to slap against the fenders.

Yes, pull both spark and gas levers back to retard and off position when leaving the car. Best way to avoid a back fire in starting if you forget to retard the spark.

DID YOU KNOW

That if the right brake band is throwing grease, and there is no time to clean off with gasoline and insert a new washer in the housing, the particular band can be restored to nearly normal efficiency by taking up a turn or two on its adjustment? This will serve to compensate for the slipping of the drum due to the grease and will also help burn off the grease.

THREE TRAFFIC TRICKS

When slowing down in traffic shift to second before stopping. Acts as a brake, enables you to run slow without danger of stalling and gives you the advantage when traffic picks up again.

When signaling to an officer at night never have the headlights on. If you blind him how can he see your signal?

In turning a right hand corner it is equally important to watch the oncoming traffic, for in order to clear the projecting apex of the curbs you must sometimes swing the front end of the car into the path of oncoming traffic.

WORTH REMEMBERING

To drain the circulating system when removing the radiator, detach the lower water hose. Since this has to be detached anyway it is to be preformed to opening the drain cock. Saves time and allows more radiator sediment to drain off.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

The problem of holding the hood up when working on the engine is conveniently solved by tying one of the handles of the lifted side to one of the handles of the side that it fastened down. A stout cord will hold it securely and without bending the hood out of shape as is often the case when the owner tries to keep the hood up by forcing it into some position it was not designed for.

EXPLAINING "PEP"

Why does a new car develop such pep on hills and on the get-away after it has been driven for two or three thousand miles? And why does such pep usually decline from then until the time valves are ground in? Maybe you've never stopped to consider it, but if you have here's the answer: Proper adjustment of the valve tappets is nine-tenths of the story of hill climbing for a motor that is properly designed and adequate for the weight of the body. Tappet clearances are slight when the car is brand new, thus robbing the motor of snap by tending to prevent quick closing of the valves when the engine heats up, as in climbing a steep hill. This is probably a benefit to the motor because it prevents the driver from burning bearings and scoring cylinders through fast running. At two or three thousand miles ordinary wear creates additional clearance, and pep is the result. This wanes as clearances increase to a point where valves do not open quickly enough nor lift high enough. (Copyright 1925 by The Ullman Feature Service).

SAYS ARTICLE ON PHILOSOPHY NOT CLUB VIEW

An article dealing with the recent controversy over questions submitted by Prof. E. M. Nealley, instructor of philosophy in the Junior College, printed in the Lions Truth, local Lions club publication, and reprinted in The Register, was a contribution to the Lions Truth by a member of the club and did not express the sentiment of the club. It was disclosed today by receipt by The Register of a letter from Harold E. Wahlberg, president. Wahlberg's letter follows:

"Mr. J. P. Baumgartner, Editor, 'Santa Ana Register,'

"Dear Mr. Baumgartner:

"I note in Wednesday's issue of The Register that there has been an apparent misunderstanding concerning a certain article published in the Lions Truth relative to the recent controversy on the Philosophy Course in Junior College.

"May I state that the statement given expression in the Lions Truth was purely a personal one, submitted by one of the members, and was not meant for general publicity, but merely for use within the club.

"In fact, the subject has never been discussed, either in the directors' meeting of the Lions club, or at any of the luncheons, and therefore no action has been taken nor is it anticipated that any action will be taken on this particular subject.

"I am offering this explanation in order that the purpose of our little publication may not be misconstrued.

"Very truly yours,
"HAROLD E. WAHLBERG,
"President."

School and College News Of Santa Ana

For this week's assembly at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school arrangements have been made to have as speaker Emory Olson, director of the contact work of the school of business administration at the University of Southern California.

"The Ten Commandments in Business" is the topic of his address to the students. Assembly convenes at 9:40 o'clock in the morning. On the program, in addition to the main address, there are to be given two musical numbers by the high school orchestra under the direction of S. J. Mustol, leader.

Forum Club Meets Tomorrow.

Members of the Forum club of forensic students in the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school are planning for the regular meeting tomorrow a special entertainment at 7:30 o'clock in the home of one of the students, Miss Eleanor Ralston, 1802 North Bush.

After conducting the business meeting the students are planning to turn the program to special entertaining features, according to Kinsley Hancock, club president. Edward Hummel is the club faculty advisor.

Arrange Seminar Trip.

Delegates to the Santa Ana high school science seminar, honorary science student organization, are to visit the county soil laboratory and insectary at Anaheim Wednesday afternoon of next week.

J. Russell Bruff, faculty advisor, arranged the trip through H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor. The inspection tour is one of a series of trips being planned by the high school science department. Last month sixty students were shown the processes in the Santa Ana Laundry.

HOW I LOST 50 POUNDS

In 2 Months Without Diets, Exercise, Rollers or Massage. New French Method Explained by Mme. Elaine of New York.

"I did not have to go through strenuous exercises, nor rub myself with absurd creams, which generally put on flesh instead of taking it off. I did not wear a keening garment, nor torture myself with diets. I was fortunate enough while in Europe to find out the secrets with which millions of French actresses and beautiful women keep their figures slender. Not only did I lose 50 pounds, but the reduction was lasting, as I have never gained a pound since stopping the treatment. I feel and look years younger and my health is greatly improved with this wonderful discovery. No matter how fat you are you may do just as I did and easily lose a few pounds without any danger. Simply go to any good drug store, get a package of SAN-GRI-NA tablets (insist on these, easily and like it has ever been offered before to the public), take it as per directions and watch your weight go down. You can't all you want while you take SAN-GRI-NA, AS IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS! It is the formula of a French physician and is sold with a money-back guarantee." On sale at White Cross, Kelley, Parsons, Mather's or Haddon-Jean Drug Store.

BEAU BRUMMEL TO BE GIVEN BY TEACHERS

Orange Faculty Members to Offer Fitch Drama on February 26, 27

ORANGE UNION HIGH SCHOOL,
Feb. 17.—The faculty of the Orange Union high school is to present Beau Brummel Thursday and Friday evenings, February 26 and 27. Each year the faculty has presented an evening of drama for some time now. The object in fourfold.

The presentation of a faculty play is always interesting to the pupils for they enjoy seeing their teachers "act" and so help break down the "impassable gulf" between teachers and pupils, making the teachers seem a little more human; it has a social value for the teachers. They get acquainted through the play as they can do in no other way; it furnishes a means of recreation acting as a sort of a safety-valve to the teachers who are continually in the grind, and it is of a financial benefit. Some years ago the faculty started a fund to assist poor but worthy pupils who wish to attend college, loaning the money to such, without interest. The fund is kept up and increased year by year in this way.

"Beau Brummel" was chosen as the play this year. It was written by Clyde Fitch under the direction of Richard Mansfield who portrayed the part for many years.

The following is the cast:
The Prince of Wales, Mr. Kaylor; Beau Brummel, Mr. Carrier; Sheridan, the playwright, Mr. Henderson; Reginald Courtenay, Mr. Buckmaster; Beau's nephew, Mr. Buckmaster; Mortimer, the Beau's valet, Mr. Campbell; Mr. Vincent, self-made merchant, Mr. Sutherland; Lord Hanly, Mr. Shippee; Mr. Abrahams, a money lender, Mr. Lowry; Simpson, the footman, Mr. Higgins; Bailiff, Mr. Stoner; Duchess of Leinster, Miss Brown; Mariana Vincent, Miss Walton; Mrs. St. Aubyn, Miss Conger; Kathleen, Miss Gowdy; Lady Faringham, Miss Hester; Lodging house keeper, Miss Hill.

Prompters and advisors, Miss Walker and Miss Summer; advertising, Mr. Fishback and Mr. Moore; stage managers, Mr. Forbes and Mr. Stanfield; stage settings, Miss Porter, Miss Bernard, Miss Hurlbut, Mrs. St. Aubyn, Miss Harrington, Miss Hotchkiss, Miss Hobbs; music, Mr. Richards and Miss Keyes.

TELESCOPE AT MT. LOWE INSPECTED

GARDEN GROVE UNION-HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 17.—Thirty-five students from the science department, accompanied by Mr. Sprinkle, science instructor, the Misses E. M. Dodson, Amy Redd and Ruth Moore, heard a most interesting lecture by Dr. Lawrence at the Mt. Lowe observatory.

Dr. Lawrence stated, "The temperature on the planet Mars is warm enough in the day time to sustain life, but I do not think that it is inhabited because the temperature falls 90 below zero at night." He gave many astonishing points on Saturn, the moon and various other heavenly bodies. His lecture was illustrated by stereopticon views that were taken at the Mt. Lowe and Wilson observatories. The party was not able to look through the telescope, due to cloudy weather.

This jolly crowd left Garden Grove at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning, arriving at Mt. Lowe at 11 o'clock, immediately on arrival, a hike to Mt. Wilson was started. It was the pleasure of thirty-three persons to go through the Mt. Wilson museum, and especially to get a look at the large reflecting telescope in the world. All the hikers returned to Mt. Lowe tavern by 5:30 o'clock. A jolly evening was spent around the large fire place at the tavern, after which the homeward journey was resumed.

No Honest Man for Modern Diogenes; Student Tells Why

BY EARL BASHOR

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 17.—Walking from one side of the street to the other came a man wearing a motorist's cap and coat. In his hand he held a flashlight. Systematically he pursued his course, his light cutting the object of his search. Passing from the street light to another, one instant he was in the lighted glare of an open confectionery shop, the next in the shadow of a darkened store. Evidently his journey was near completion or else he was tired because his steps commenced to lag. Then suddenly out of the mist a bluecoat hove into view.

"Hello, Diogenes!" hailed the cop. "See you are still looking for an honest man."

"Go to," responded Diogenes. "I am just looking for a parking place."

DENTIST'S CHAIR IS REAL PROVING GROUND FOR HEROES WRITER AT TUSTIN CLAIMS

By EARL BASHOR

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 17.—Prehistoric man was a bold, bad beast. He roamed the forest, not in fear or trembling of the denizen therein, but with a bold front, defying the vicious mammals to make him their prey. He was defenseless against their onslaught, yet it was with courage that he faced them, causing them to cover away from him.

Imagine some of the so-called men of today facing the same conditions in the forest.

What would they do? Would they hold power of domination over the citizens of the wild as their ancestors? No. Absolutely not.

This brings out the point. Man of the past had stung, even teeth; their skulls show this. Now days many men have a plate made by the time they are thirty-five. Doctors give as a reason for this is that they do not eat the hard foods as of old and their teeth become soft.

Perhaps! But what has this to do with man's way over the wild life? This: That the dentist's chair has taken the courage out of man.

Scared? "Never in his life," states a broad-shouldered husky of the open. Set him in a dentist's chair. Ah Ha! Now this is a real test. An hour or so later the same man will sneak down the alley like Bruno hitting for home after going swimming with the boys.

It's the dentist's chair that has removed man's courage and it is still the place where a man is proven of his real fortitude!

FEBRUARY NOTABLE MONTH

One of the most interesting of all months is here. To Americans, February has a special significance because during that month are celebrated the birthdays of two famous leaders, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln and that of fun-loving St. Valentine. Any one who has a birthday during this month no doubt feels that he has something in common with other (he may say) great personages. February also holds the privilege of revealing the first dainty touches of spring, the green hills, fresh dawns and charming sunsets. It is, indeed, a month of laurels.

DISCUSSING MOVING PICTURES

By Elizabeth Utt
Mr. Will Hayes, "Movie Czar," declares that the outlook for 1925 in motion pictures is the best in history as to quality, production and extent of business. An element of particular interest is the advance in the prestige and appreciation of American films abroad. The great majority of all the films shown in the world is American made, and most of these are made in Hollywood.

"The most encouraging factor in the situation," Mr. Hayes stated, "is the determination of the responsible producers continually to improve the quality of their pictures."

The exportation of American made films is indeed of great importance to the country generally. The sale of these films helps to stimulate foreign trade, and other products also. Of even greater importance is the feature of international amity, the export of these films helps to build up a friendly feeling with the foreign countries.

By Elizabeth Utt, Tustin Union High School.

THE SPIRIT OF COURTESY

Many people have a bewildered idea of what constitutes courtesy. Some consider a show of manners sufficient, but manners of themselves are useless, it is the spirit behind the act that counts. Courtesy will never be a burden to anyone so long as it is done in the right spirit. A polite word or a considerate act will often brighten the day for someone. After all, courtesy lies in a consideration for others.

The French philosopher, Taine, sums this all up very beautifully in this way, "Politeness is a sort of humanity and kindness applied to small acts and every-day discourse; it bids man soften towards others and forget himself for the sake of others."

By LAWRENCE ALLEN, Garden Grove Union High School.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

George Washington the father of our grand old U. S. A., has stood out in the history of the world as a man of high ideals, a fine leader of men.

Washington from his boyhood stood for clean truthful speech, which made him a man among men, away above many of his day. Washington, we are told in history, had had trouble in overcoming. Back in those days when things looked pretty bad for the thirteen colonies, Washington was being condemned for his poor judgment in handling the armies. That his feelings but he never let that dampen his morale, he just got mad and crossed the Delaware under desperate circumstances and licked the British so badly they didn't know whether they were in the United States or Africa.

After displaying his courage and ability to lead men, he was elected president of the country which he had so courageously defended in time of need.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE OPIUM CONFERENCE

According to all indications the latest conference for the abatement of the evil of opium has been a failure. The United States introduction of a measure to abolish the production of opium. The proposition of the American delegation was hotly opposed, the allied powers saying that the measure was too idealistic to be successful. China, however,

The magazine will appear in April.

"BLUE MOON" TO BE PRESENTED AT G. G. SCHOOL

BY MERLE RYAN

GARDEN GROVE UNION-HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 17.—The leading part in "Once in a Blue Moon," an operetta to be given at the Garden Grove high school the evening of Friday, February 27, is to be taken by Alora Owen, a junior. The boys and girls of the clubs have combined to present the operetta.

The remainder of the cast is as follows:
Moon Lady, Frances Bragg; Mrs. Montgomery, Iris Russell; Leatrice Montgomery, Norma Larson; Mr. Brabbitt Morton, James Parks; Betty Morton, Katherine Kirven; Mrs. Lila Lavander, Evelyn Smith; Billy Maxwell, John Allen Pitt; George Taylor, Earl Walker; Sir Percival Chetwood, Harry Munz; M. Rine Le Mon, Ruth Hayhurst; Suzanna, Alma Knight; Hop Sing, Ed Arthur Lewis; Skylark Roams, Ed Davis; Mooney, Brooks Stroud.

agreed with our representatives that such a measure was possible. The American proposal was for a fifteen year period within which all nations would abolish the production and smoking of opium. This motion was killed by a counter motion elected by the conference.

Opium is one of the greatest evils the world over. Some day something will have to be done to eliminate this drug. There is no use for opium. It does not fill a need as does morphine.

The human system is to tear down the whole body both mentally and physically. Why should such a thing be allowed to continue? There is no answer to this question. Opium must be done away with, the quicker the better. This conference has failed in a sign that this old world has got to wake up and move toward some tangible way of overcoming opium.

Opium will probably never cause a war between nations. It is for the sake of humanity that such a drug should be abolished. Opium trade is the same throughout the world. All nations must agree to some plan to stop it. When this great international conference does come and after it has successfully adjourned it will go down in history as one of the most Christian conference ever held, as it will take a great burden off the shoulders of mankind.

OUR IDEALS AND WASHINGTON'S

George Washington is remembered as "The Father of his Country," a title never before bestowed upon a man, however great. Washington earned this title by his brave effort and forethought along with the great courage and high standards by which we remember him. Everyone knows the story of Valley Forge—how Washington and his men suffered from cold and hunger, how he saved the Delaware and was victorious. He prepared himself for great things and when the time came, he was able to serve his country in an invaluable way.

But what would the man who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen, say of our ideals and standards of today? What would he say of our present form of government, of the political scandal that is ever present?

Are our principles as high as Washington's?

But bringing the idea still closer home are we making the best of our opportunities? Is old Anaheim Union high school as good as it is possible for us to make it? These are questions worth thinking about. That is one of the reasons we remember the birthdays of our great men, that we may honor them and at the same time profit by their accomplishments. Washington did his best—are we doing ours?

Classes at Grove

CLASH FOR HONORS

By HENRY BON DURANT

GARDEN GROVE UNION-HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 17.—The seniors had their annual "ditch day" Tuesday, Feb. 10. It was planned so carefully that they thought the ignorant juniors would not know of it until after they had gone. The juniors were not so ignorant as the seniors had thought. They knew of the time, place and all the other details before the senior committees had reported to the rest of them, so it was said.

Two juniors hid in the school house and unlocked the doors letting in the others. The result was that the next morning the building was plastered "with 26" from roof to cellar with the class colors maroon and gold, on the flag pole creased the sophomores could have some "fun" trying to get them down.

The sophomores tried to knock the colors down with a gas pipe which the juniors bent in "corkscrew" fashion around the flag pole. They finally got them down by using a rope and the "corkscrew" escape.

Using the night the seniors thought that the juniors would not bother them while they put up their class colors. But the juniors outwitted them again and met them in a battle which lasted an hour.

TUSTIN SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS

BY CARL WEISE

TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Feb. 17.—Officers of the senior class for the home stretch of the high school career were elected last Tuesday, February 10. The election seemed quite a cut and dried affair, for the senior boys played politics, and allowed only boys to be nominated. The only girls on the list of officers are Elizabeth Utt and Ethel Osterman. The former is yell leader and the latter is historian.

The new officers are as follows: President, James Evans; vice president, Cecil Preston; secretary, Earl Bashor; treasurer, Foster Prather; reporter, Carl Weise; yell leader, Elizabeth Utt; and historian, Ethel Osterman.

After the election the matter of the senior trip was again brought up, and the suggestion was made that they abandon the Mt. Baldy trip and instead go to Strawberry Plains, about five miles from Lake Arrowhead. Various arguments were brought forward. "Lots of snow all the time," boulevard all the way up. "No rocks and no necessity for climbing all the time."

The matter of the change, while not put to a vote received the evident approval of the majority of the class, and according to several seniors, it is just a matter of time till their destination is officially changed.

LATEST FOR TWINS

LIVERPOOL, Eng. Feb. 17.—A Liverpool man has invented a double deck baby carriage, which he insists is much more practical for twins than the customary one with one wide bed. There is an auxiliary bed, extending part of the length of the perambulator, which with the normal seat of the carriage makes an arrangement somewhat like two ship bunks in miniature.

LAUGH IS ON YEGGS

BATH, Eng. Feb. 17.—Shop keepers here have had the laugh on robbers recently. One gang of burglars cut a hole in a tobacconist's window and stole a lot of packets—all dummies and empty. In robbing a wine merchant's store they stole five bottles of colored water.

BARBER PHILATELIST

LONDON, Feb. 17.—A barber here spends all his odd moments collecting stamps and the walls of his shops are papered with stamps of all descriptions. He is also an art critic, his advice being sought when a person desires to purchase what is claimed to be a valuable picture.

SUFFERED FROM BAD HEADACHE

Lady Says She Found Black-Draught Helpful and After Long Use Recommends It to Others

Berea, Ky.—"I have known of Black-Draught about all of my life," says Mrs. W. G. Pike, of this place. "My mother gave it to me when I was a child, for colds or when I would come in feeling bad from over-eating or from childish ailments."

"After I was grown, I had very severe headaches and suffered intensely. So many times headache is from the disordered stomach or liver. I found that when I took Black-Draught, it would help me—just a few doses and it seemed the headache was less and less."

"I have used Black-Draught all during my married life. 'When I would have indigestion, I would take a dose of Black-Draught. It will help the sour, bitter taste in the mouth and tightness after meals."

"It is good to take for a cold. It will cleanse the system and make one feel like new."

"I don't know of any better medicine than Black-Draught. I have recommended it to others and will continue to do so for it has proved very satisfactory."

Thedford's Black-Draught is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, carefully mixed in proportions which have been determined by long experience and scientific research.

Go to your druggist today. Get a bottle of Thedford's Eucalmin. It will clear the bronchial passages, loosen up congestion and bring that pleasant relief as only Eucalmin can do when properly combined as in Eucalmin. Give Eucalmin to the children as it contains no narcotics, chloroform, alcohol or habit forming drugs. For Spasmodic Croup and Whooping Cough it has no equal.—Adv.

For Kiddies' Colds

"Just Rub It On"

Mothers who have precious little lives in their keeping realize the danger to delicate stomachs of so much dosing. That is why so many millions of mother now depend entirely upon Vicks for croup and children's colds.

There is nothing to swallow—you just rub Vicks over throat and chest at bedtime and leave the bedclothes loose about the neck so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled. The child is usually better next morning.

Vicks can be used freely and often with perfect safety, even on the youngest member of the family.

Pimpily? Well Don't Be

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, heavy, "no good" feeling, constipation, sour liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the most successful and effective results. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c each.

SLEUTHS BUSY ON RUM THEFT CASE. BELIEF

ANAHEIM, Feb. 17.—Federal officers are believed to be working on cases which may lead to the identity of the thieves who robbed the liquor vault in the Anaheim police station Friday night. It was stated today by Chief of Police Bert Moody.

Moody said that, although the federal men and who had notified them of the robbery, he suspected that they were working quietly on the case.

The liquor stolen was being held as evidence, and while it was in the custody of local police, it was in direct charge of federal agents. It has not been learned how much was stolen.

Chief Moody today declared that the discharge of nine Anaheim policemen appeared in no way responsible for the operation of gem thieves here Sunday night. Moody stated that, with the addition of five deputy sheriffs to the four police officers appointed on the force, the town was adequately policed. He pointed out that the gem thieves did not confine their operations to Anaheim, but also looted homes in Santa Ana, showing, he said, that the police situation was not encouraged the "crime wave" here.

Man Out of Jail Two Days and Gets In Again

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—Just two days after he had been released from serving a 30-day sentence in the county jail, William Henry Baker, was behind the bars of the city jail here. He was arrested 32 days ago by local officers and charged with vagrancy. He pleaded guilty and was given 30 days in the county jail.

Sunday he was arrested again on the same charge. Before his first arrest here, he had been in jail at San Pedro, Los Angeles and numerous other places, he told police. According to his story, he has been out of jail six days in the last six months. He was the first man to be sentenced to jail by City Recorder Harry Stewart.

MISTAKES AUTO FOR HER OWN. WOMAN NABBED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—After entering the wrong automobile and driving it for several hours, only to discover, when she was arrested by police, that the car was not her own, a Long Beach woman was today regarded as the champion absent-minded person in Huntington Beach police department history of recent years.

The woman, whose name police did not retain, parked her car on a downtown street in Huntington Beach yesterday and entered a store. When she left the store, she stepped into a car and drove it away. But it was not her own car.

She had been parked adjoining the woman's auto, and was of the same make of machine. The owner of the missing automobile notified police his car had been stolen.

Later in the day the woman returned to the city on business and was arrested by Motor Officer Ray Bradford.

She explained the situation to local police, and her own car was found parked where she had left it. "I thought the key fitted awfully hard," she said. The machine she was driving was a 1924 model, while the one she drove away was a 1922 model.

Vets Entertained By Anaheim Folk

ANAHEIM, Feb. 17.—Former service men and women at Camp Kearney were entertained Sunday by more than 100 Anaheim residents, who conducted "Anaheim day" at the camp.

Musical entertainment, playlets and dance numbers comprised the program, which was staged in the various wards in order that all patients might benefit by the visit.

Each city in the county is to be given an opportunity to stage these programs.

NEW OIL WELL AT H. B. COMES IN WITH ROAR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—That a substantial gain in oil production will be made in the Huntington Beach field within the next few months was indicated here today when the Petroleum Midway Oil company well Columbia No. 22, near the Holly Sugar factory, came in with a roar of gas and oil which shot over the top of the derrick.

The well came in at near the 1500-barrel mark, according to local oil men, but quieted to 1000 barrels soon afterward. No further decrease has been noticed today. The oil is said to be some of the best in the field, testing 25 gravity.

Many local persons who are interested in the Columbia leases were wearing large smiles, about town today.

The Columbia well is located on the Petroleum Midway Columbia least No. 2. Work on the well was started nearly two and one-half years ago, when only gushers were brought in here. At that time the company drilled the hole to a depth of 5500 feet. The well came in yesterday at 4300 feet.

It will be remembered that the well is one of two on the lease. The other, Columbia No. 1, came in two years ago at 4000 barrels of 29 gravity oil, but water trouble developed and no oil has been produced from the hole for some time. Work is said to be progressing on redrilling of the well, however.

According to local oil men, the bringing in of this well, coupled with the recent discovery of a good oil sand at a shallow depth in the Arnold well in the north-eastern section of the field, indicates that production here will increase during the year. Charts of the field show several excellent oil sands before the gusher depth is reached, according to geologists. Few of these sands have as yet been tapped. Many wells here are now being plugged back and the pipe perforated.

Work Commences On H. B. Bakery

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—Catching brothers, local contractors, were low bidders on the new bakery building to be erected by John H. Eader. Work was started on the structure this morning. ## Costa Mesa to Dedicate New Flag and Pole

COSTA MESA, Feb. 17.—A community flag and flag pole dedication will be held at the Costa Mesa school grounds on Saturday, February 21, at 2:30 p. m.

Funds to secure the flag were raised by popular subscription. The chamber of commerce appointed Messrs. Teany, R. L. Davis and W. D. Barnard as committee in charge, but the enterprise is sponsored by no particular organization.

The pole to be erected is 80 feet high and the flag is 8 by 14 feet. Judge Thomas of Santa Ana gives the dedication address, the local band will play, and other exercises are scheduled.

BARKAS FACING SECOND TRIAL ON RUM COUNT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—Gust Barkas, local restaurant proprietor, will be tried here tomorrow on the second of three counts of possession of liquor, which were filed against him after a recent county-wide liquor raid.

Barkas was found not guilty by a jury in the first case. He was represented by Attorney Thomas McFadden of Santa Ana.

Barkas will still have one charge to face after disposition of the case here tomorrow. L. V. Blodgett, city attorney, who acted as attorney for Barkas while under the impression that the case would be tried in the federal court, is disqualified from prosecuting him. Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin prosecuted the last case, but will not appear in the case here tomorrow. It is not known who will represent the city.

PROGRESS ON PIER PLAN AT H. B. REPORTED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—Progress is being made in regard to erection of a large horseshoe pleasure pier here, it was reported at a meeting of the chamber of commerce yesterday by John F. Hinkle, chairman of the chamber's committee in charge of the pier proposition.

Hinkle declared that the matter of securing a permit had been taken up with the government authorities, and that negotiations were under way with the Huntington Beach company for a lease on land for the approaches to the property.

No definite location has yet been selected for the pier.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winters entertained at a "kid party" at their home Friday evening, members of the Home Economics club being the guests.

The "children" arrived in the costumes of extreme youth. The big hit of the evening was Walter Dungan, who appeared as a dainty maiden in pink ruffled dress. Wayne Holt was greeted with gales of laughter when he arrived dressed in a pink dress and a most gorgeous wig adorned with a large bow.

Prizes for the best costumes were awarded Mrs. Emmett Smith and Walter Dungan, while throughout the evening other prizes were distributed to winners in games and contests.

The rooms were decked with streamers of red crepe paper, while hearts and cupid's were everywhere in evidence. A Valentine box was a feature of the evening and later each one present was asked to write a Valentine rhyme to his partner. These were then read, causing much merriment. Top spinning and other childhood games interspersed those of the Valentine season and at a late hour supper was served.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Winters were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dungan, Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Rossell, Mrs. Ralph Schwantes, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Christiansen, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Irvine German, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Knapp and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Richardson, visited friends from Iowa in Huntington Beach Thursday.

Miss Gladys Wall of Fresno visited Miss Ruth Violet during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hale are the parents of an 8-pound son, born February 12.

Intermediate class of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at Orange County park Saturday. Several months ago the class was entertained at a social at the home of the teacher, Mrs. C. P. Morris, and at that time the Rev. Virgil Ledbetter, pastor of the Baptist church in Anaheim, was present and spoke to the boys. At that time a contest was decided upon, the class being divided into two groups with Leighton Littlejohn and Burton Allen as leaders. Points were gained in attendance, new members and sportsmanship. At the time of the contest, it was the loss of the contest, it was matched at that in sportsmanship the points were the same. However, it was decided that, instead of having the losers treat the winners, as was planned, Leighton Littlejohn's side should furnish games for the outing. Those enjoying the day were Burton Allen, Leighton Littlejohn, Ray Fisher, Walter Baruch, Orville King, Iwa Ishii, Codga Ibarra, George Tsuharra, the Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Morris and the Rev. Mr. Ledbetter and Miss Merle Simons of Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rowland of Santa Ana were recent guests at the J. N. Galbraith home.

Mrs. J. H. Calvin, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. L. Lake in San Jacinto for a week, returned home Friday.

A chamber of commerce banquet will be held in the Garden Grove hotel on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Members and ladies are invited. The dinner will be limited to seventy-five plates.

Mrs. Allen Lair in entertaining at the latter's home in Santa Ana Friday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Crosby.

Miss Dorothy Stillens has sold her interest in the beauty parlor conducted on West Ocean avenue, to Miss Opal Robbins, the latter taking possession this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Saxe and son, who have been visiting for several weeks at the homes of Mrs. Samuel Wight, the former's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crosby, his sister, departed recently for their home in Elgin, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullins are enjoying a visit from Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mullins, who have arrived from Ouray, Colo. They plan to remain in Southern California.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Richmond, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Richmond are spending the winter in Southern California.

WILL CONSIDER BIDS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 17.—Bids will be opened for the paving of Seventh street at an adjourned meeting of the city council here at 2 p. m., tomorrow. Other street proceedings as well as special business will come before the trustees.

WE used to spend valuable time and money tearing off the old, cracked shingles before laying the new. Today you can get de luxe shingles for the price of ordinary roofing, because Pioneer Yosemite Slate-Surfaced Shingles are laid right over the old wood shingles. And Pioneer Yosemite Slate-Surfaced Shingles are beautiful, lasting and safe. In popular colors—red, green, blue-black and golden brown

BEAUTY AND THE BEASTS

But in this case the beasts are not so bad looking themselves. For Icicle and Snowshoe, held in the basket by Miss Eleanor Gallagher of Philadelphia, are two prize-winning, blue-eyed white Persians at the annual Philadelphia cat show.

Capital Letter

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Fitting administration shoes to congressional feet. That, figuratively is the really important job Everett Sanders of Indiana must undertake in his new position as secretary to the president.

His eight years' service in the House has enabled him to gauge rather accurately the size and shape of congressional "understandings."

If Sanders isn't able to "sell" the Coolidge line, built on "common sense" soles and with Puritanic vamps, then he's lost the knack of salesmanship he acquired as a shoe salesman back in Terre Haute and Bloomington, Ind.

It doesn't, then there'll be a lot of limping, much pain and anguish, and many gaps in the ranks where stragglers with mistle have dropped out of line.

Sanders, like Coolidge, is a serious sort. Son of an underpaid Hoosier minister, he had to make his own way through normal school and college.

While clerking in a Terre Haute store, the year before he entered college, he intimated to the proprietor one evening that he'd like to take the next Saturday off.

"That's not a very convenient day," his employer answered. "It's always our busiest time. Wouldn't some other time do just as well?"

"Well—it would be a bit inconvenient," Sanders is said to have replied. "You see, I've arranged to get married Saturday."

Unlike C. Bascom Slemph, whom he succeeds as aid to the president, Sanders is lacking in that indefinable quality known as "magnetism" or "personality."

By contrast with the tall, swarthy, suave Slemph, he seems unimpressive and colorless.

Physically of rather stodgy build, with large head and heavy shoulders, Sanders looks misanthropic in a secretarial role. There is a sallowness to his skin that suggests his big body would be benefited by an outdoor job.

The tensely intent lines on his face, too, suggests that it is his will-power, his determination, rather than his personal preference, which holds him beyond the big flat-topped mahogany desk in the office adjoining the president's.

For a time at least, following inauguration, the White House is to lose its "star boarder."

That title has been bestowed, by common consent, on the pudgy, well-fed figure of Frank W. Stearns.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has any individual not a member of the presidential family spent so much time at the White House as has Stearns.

But after March 4 he is leaving for a two-month stay in Europe—on vacation.

Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 17.—Members of the Odd Fellows lodge were pleasantly surprised Wednesday night when a group of singers from the seventh and eighth grades, chaperoned by the principal, Mrs. O. L. Schlefer, and Miss Myra L. Evans, assembled in the hall below the lodge room and sang a number of patriotic songs, commemorating Lincoln's birthday. Miss Evans accompanied at the piano, and Miss Faye McCall played a piano solo. A number of the old melodies were sung by a quartet. Refreshments were served after the program.

D. Chapman, brother of Mrs. L. P. Loftis here, was badly hurt Tuesday night while at his work in an oil derrick at Signal Hill. He was unconscious for several hours and had to have nine stitches taken across his chin where he was cut. Ladies' Missionary society met Wednesday afternoon at the manse. Korea was the subject. Mrs. O. B. Byram, who has a son, Roy, in the missionary field in Korea, read from his letters about the Koreans and their country. The study was also enhanced by a number of pictures her son had sent his family here. Mrs. F. Grandy, Mrs. W. B. McCoy and Mrs. Rhea spoke about the educational, medical and evangelistic work in Korea. Mrs. Grandy also told about the missionary work being done among the Arizona Indians.

Daniel Welby of Los Angeles has been spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. R. A. Weld.

Mrs. James R. Morgan and daughter, Mary Ellen, spent Tuesday in Santa Ana, with Mrs. W. G. Alford.

A business meeting of Sunday school teachers and officers of the church was held Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Greer of Maricopa, were guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bechtel. The Greers formerly lived in Westminster.

Mrs. Henry West was a guest Wednesday of Mrs. W. A. Bates in Huntington Beach.

A. E. Carter has gone to Woodlake on business for a few days.

Mrs. Addie Blakey was delighted Wednesday when a few old friends whom she had not seen for about 45 years, visited her. They were Mr. and Mrs. Murat Parsons, James Parsons and son, Ira. They called with Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of Riverside, in whose home they were visitors. These folk were children and young men and women together in Kansas and much merriment was had Wednesday when Mrs. Blakey exhibited a biscuit baked by a male member of their "set" not less than 52 years ago, one day when all but the "cook" went on a berry hunt.

This biscuit Mrs. Blakey at the time slipped into her pocket and has kept it ever since. At the dinner served the guests in the Blakey home Wednesday, a silver spoon, in the family for more than 200 years, was given its share of attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Price of Alhambra were guests at dinner Thursday in the home of Mrs. Lily Price.

Mrs. Nettie Edwards of Elsinore and daughter, Mrs. Ben Craig, of Seal Beach, called Wednesday afternoon on Mrs. Phil McClintock.

Frank Skinner has contracted with the Holly Sugar company to plow with his tractor 50 acres of land on the Frank Grandy ranch. The land will be planted to sugar beets.

Mrs. Lydia LaBee of Eagle Rock and Mrs. Bessie Sacher of Los Angeles were guests of Mrs. Ora Settle Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCoy were at Westwood Tuesday, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowgill.

Miss Alice Larkin of Los Angeles is visiting Mrs. C. A. Hay.

Mrs. A. Mason has returned to her home in Glendora after visiting the W. J. Cozad family. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cozad and son, Frank, have also returned to their home in Hemet after being guests for several days in this home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Chamberlain called Wednesday on Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Peryman in San Pedro.

The mid-term examinations just completed, Mary Moog, seventh grade pupil, received highest honors in her class, while Evaristo Navarro was a close second.

Mrs. Paul Hanson and daughter of Ord, Neb., surprised Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Francis with a visit this week.

William H. Rose has returned to his work near Culver City after spending a few days with his family here.

E. M. Thomas of Huntington Beach was moving Friday into the service station at the corner of Westminster and Huntington Beach boulevards. Mr. Thomas traded property in Wintersburg to V. F. Mayhugh for the service station.

Cod Liver Oil Now in Tasteless Tablets Greatest Flesh Builder

No more will weak, thin, unfortunate children cry in protest when the nasty, fishy-tasting, horrible-smelling cod liver oil is brought out.

Medical science progresses rapidly, and now you can get at the greatest, most real, genuine cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Even the run-down and skinny grown-ups, who ought to take cod liver oil, because it really is the greatest, most real, genuine cod liver oil in sugar-coated tablets that young and old can take with ease and pleasure.

Of course, doctors have been prescribing cod liver oil in tablets under another name for several years, but it is only of late that one can walk into a drug store and get a box of these flesh-producing tablets just as easy as a bottle of cough syrup.

Thin, run-down, anemic men, women and children who need to grow strong and take on flesh are advised to get a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, and if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days just get your money back.

One woman gained fifteen pounds in five weeks, according to her own doctor—another ten pounds in three weeks. A very sickly child aged nine gained twelve pounds in seven months, and now plays with other children and has a good appetite.

Just ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. White Cross Drug Co., G. S. Kelley Drug Co., Matter's or any good druggist will tell you that they are wonderful flesh and health builders. Only 10 cents for 40 tablets, and don't forget that they are wonder workers for feeble old folks.

THE UNUSED SENSES

Dr. Ellwood Hendrick, noted chemist of Columbia University, is urging people to cultivate the sense of smell, which he considers very nearly lost in the human race. He refers to the Elizabethans who, he says, laid out their gardens not merely to please the eye alone, but to please the nose or the emotions stimulated by lovely and varied scents. He points out that obviously people not alive to delicately distinguished fragrances are losing many satisfactions and pleasures which they might otherwise enjoy.

Of course, it might be replied that human beings have let their sense of smell decline in self-defense. Particularly in big cities with their coal smoke, their chemical fumes, their stockyards, glue factories, garbage reduction plants, and so on, there are odors enough to which it is pleasanter to be insensible.

But Dr. Hendrick puts his plea on a sterner basis than the increase of pleasure. If man's sense of smell were increased by one-third, he says, knowledge would be multiplied many times.

It is likely, however, that the sense of smell in civilized humans isn't really lost. It is just unused. Some authority said recently that savages, who are supposed to have better eyesight than civilized men, really do not have any better mechanical vision; they simply use it better. The eyes, and probably the nose, ears, taste and touch of the average American, are capable of greater use than they are now put to. It seems reasonable that it would be genuinely worth while to make fuller use of all these faculties.

THE THING REALLY SAILS

The famous German rotor ship, "Buckau," which uses whirling steel masts instead of sails, seems to have done surprisingly well in her first sea voyage.

She must be an astonishing sight to old-fashioned mariners meeting her, sailing along as she does without visible means of propulsion. When bucking a head-on wind she is obliged to use her propeller, turned by an auxiliary Diesel engine. Otherwise she sails easily "under bare poles," going best when moving at right angles to the wind.

Her hollow steel masts are turned rapidly, on roller bearings, by a small motor, as a baseball is turned by the twist given it by the pitcher. The wind tends to deflect the masts, and the ship of which they are a part, just as the air deflects the ball moving through it. The same kind of people who used to say a ball couldn't be thrown in a curved line are now saying that a beam wind can't drive a ship forward by its effect on a pair of rotating masts. But the ball curves and the ship moves just the same.

In the case of the ship, there is an evident saving of top-heavy rigging and numerous crew on a sailing ship, or machinery and fuel on a steamship, which makes the new type surprisingly economical. If further tests support the experimental results so far obtained, the sea may soon be filled with such queer-looking craft.

Europe is so mad at America for trying to collect loans that it keeps right on borrowing American money.

THE JUVENILE JUDGE

A newspaper, telling of the improvement in recent years in the handling of wayward children, describes the work of a juvenile court as follows:

"A judge of a juvenile court has to be an interpreter rather than a judge. His primary object is not to determine and punish guilt when cases of youthful waywardness come before him. It is to find a way out, to interpret, to advise, and to lend a helping hand. It is to consider social relationships as well as the nature of the child's offense. It is to look beyond the four walls of a court and to discover the environmental forces which have contributed to a boy's misdemeanor. It is to answer the challenge of the child with insight and sympathy."

This places a huge responsibility on the judge and on the people who choose the judge. It presents a happier outlook for children themselves, an increasingly powerful deterrent to serious youthful crime, and a school for good citizenship. Fortunately the attitude here pictured as ideal is found on the superior benches in this county.

The world failed to end on Feb. 6 as per prophecy, but that doesn't hinder any worldling from making a new start.

LOOKING AHEAD

Former Premier Giolitti of Italy, having occasion to renew the lease on his Roman apartment the other day, was asked how long a term he wanted.

"Better make it 25 years," he said. "I don't want to be bothered constantly with renewing leases." So it was done.

Giolitti is 82 years old. Most people of that age, and less, are getting ready to die. It is refreshing to find an octogenarian so vigorous and optimistic that he is interested more in preparing to live.

CHILD LABOR TARIFF

The general manager of a large concern of manufacturing tailors has voiced his attitude toward child labor as follows:

"What interests me, as one actively engaged in industry, is the economic aspect of the proposed amendment. Merely as a student of economic problems, I feel that we must have some counterpart of the tariff in equalizing unfair competition between states. For decades our tariff legislation has been based upon the principle of equalizing the difference in labor costs on products made at home and abroad due to the higher standard of living and of wages in the United States as compared with foreign countries. If we are going to have differences in labor costs between different states in the Union due not to greater efficiency on the part of capital or labor, or both, in one state as against another, but to certain legislative enactments which are put on the statute books of some states in the interest of public health and human progress while other states lag behind, there are only two alternatives for equalizing conditions: One is to give power to Congress to equalize these conditions on a national scale; the other is to let matters take their own course, which will result in a drift of industries to the states which place the least restriction. The former alternative spells equalization upward, the other equalization downward, on the path of progress."

This is a sound but cold-blooded argument in favor of doing something for which there are also many warm and humane arguments, many intellectual arguments, many patriotic arguments. There is already agreement on the part of most right-thinking citizens that the thing needs doing. But disagreement as to how it should be done is taking the power of action away from all those groups who would protect children and leaving it to the few interests that care chiefly for their own selfish, temporary and chimerical gain.

OUT OF DEBT IN 1967

The United States government contemplates the full payment of the present public debt by 1967. Refunding plans are made with that end in view. It means carrying a big interest burden and at the same time paying off an average of $500,000,000 a year on the principal.

It is reassuring to know that the huge war debt, is going to be wiped out eventually. But 42 years seems a long time. It might be shortened, with good luck, particularly by the full payment of American loans to allied countries. But that is hardly to be expected.

The saving fact is that such a burden, equalized over a long period of years, should grow lighter with the normal increase of national wealth. It's the first few years that are the hardest.

It should not be forgotten, however, that this plan is based on the expectation of peace. Another war, any time within those 42 years, would spoil everything and probably pile up a new debt far bigger than the old.

There's no accounting for human nature. People who rejoiced to see the price of wheat go up are now kicking about the cost of bread.

Deserved All He Got

Sacramento Bee.

Charles R. Forbes, former head of the veterans' bureau, but recently convicted by a jury in Chicago of a charge of defrauding the government, announces that his attorneys will appeal the case.

Grandiloquently he talks of taking the issue to the supreme court, if that be necessary. A determined and unbroken silence would be the better course for him.

For his record is so black that beside it that of Albert W. Fall is almost spotless.

The latter took a bribe which at worst would only have involved a monetary loss to the government; but Forbes preyed upon the wounded and suffering service men, many of whom died because the money appropriated to bring them back to health and happiness was expended in riotous living by Forbes and his friends.

When he was arraigned for sentence, Forbes' attorney presented in his behalf a plea for leniency because of the prisoner's fine record while a soldier in France.

Far from being an extenuation of his latter conduct, the trial judge declared that it made it all the more shameful.

And he was right. For one who had been comrade in arms of the soldiers thus to betray their confidence and violate their trust was an added infamy.

Deadly Grade Crossing

Long Beach Press-Telegram.

"Aged woman ground to death by wheels of train at grade crossing." Just a news summary in a daily paper. How many read that hurriedly and without emotion? This is the difficulty about arraying public sentiment against the grade-crossing peril. Men and women do not make it a personal matter. They regard it and treat it as though it were something detached from them and their lives—as some vague hazard lying afar off.

But take the news summary quoted hereinbefore. Suppose the "aged woman" mentioned in this summary were the mother of you who at this moment are reading this. If this had been your mother would you regard it lightly and indifferently? Most surely you would not! And yet this aged woman was somebody's mother, no doubt—somebody was bereft when she was killed. Do you realize that—if your mother is living—your mother might be the next victim of a grade-crossing tragedy? Or your child? Or your sister? Or some relative or dear one? Bring this peril right to your own door, and study it as a personal problem, confronting you—endangering you and your dear ones.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

HARD CASES
A consultant in medicine, with a great liking for "nervous cases," states that he enjoys having a hard bothersome case come into his office. The patient has been to a number of doctors, has told his story a hundred times, has tried the patience of physicians, until the physicians give him up in despair.

When being examined by a physician, he would want to do all the talking, would criticize everything that had ever been done for him, was peevish, irritable, and altogether unlovely in disposition. The result is that such a patient is first of all, a discouraged individual. He has "been everywhere," "seen everybody" and "tried everything."

Now this consultant takes all this into consideration. He finds out everything that has been done for the patient, and is of course just that far ahead with the case. He knows what ground has been covered, and what ground has been left uncovered. The problem before him, a problem that has baffled other physicians, becomes a challenge to his ability and tenacity, and accordingly he is "on his toes" with the case, instead of being "tired" of it before he starts.

Thus, the first thing he does is to thoroughly examine the patient, spending considerable time on the process. This enables him to feel reasonably sure as to the existence of any organic trouble, but has a tremendous effect upon the patient, who feels that at last he has found a physician who will really listen to his "symptoms," and take the trouble to try and locate his trouble. Sometimes a real trouble, unnoticed by the other examiners, is found and the treatment is given.

If the examination fails to reveal any trouble, the physician knows that he is up against the "nervous case," and works accordingly. He sizes up the weak and strong points of the individual, and by tactful, yet frank advice, gets results.

The trouble very frequently is that this type of individual has perhaps been a good worker, mentally or physically, and has worked too hard. He himself, and the members of the family can't understand why his "production," or ability to work, has grown less. The reason often is that he is simply tired out, loaded down with fatigue products. This physician takes hold of him, makes him relax, watches his diet and exercise, and gets him back to normal. It takes time of course.

Ugliness Damages a City

Kansas City Star

Thirty years ago Broadway, New York, was the most famous street in America. Today the most famous street is Fifth avenue. Why? Because the merchants on Fifth avenue were wise enough to clear up their street and get rid of overhanging signs and run-down buildings.

Time and time again it has been demonstrated that the maintenance of an ugly shack on a street damages the entire neighborhood. There are streets in Kansas City today that have gone back in the last five years when they might have gone forward because of the selfish indifference of property owners. They have been satisfied with unimproved lots or mud banks or shacks plastered with billboards—conditions that have frightened business away.

Mayor Beach, speaking to the Business District League yesterday, pledged the city to co-operate in a general sprucing up. But the city itself can do little. The real responsibility is on the property owners. If they fail the city fails.

Worth While Verse

A TRUANT THOUGHT

"Come back, come back, you truant thoughts,
You must not wander so!"
And thus I called them close to me
From lands I longed to know.

I called them back across the sea,
From down behind the sun,
Along the fragile rainbow bridge,
They all returned but one.

I only found it when we met,
And then at last I knew
That all the time my little truant
Thought had been with you.

Wide Experience

A wandering mechanic appeared in the office of the machine-shop foreman and asked for a job. Times were rather slack and there was no particular reason for taking on new employees, except that this foreman was an enterprising fellow with the good of his employer at heart and was always keenly on the lookout for especially skilled workmen.

"You have worked in machine shops before?"
"Yes, indeed."

"Where?"
"In Detroit."

"In what shop?"
"The Ford Motor Company."

"In their big plant?"
"Yes, sir."

"Well, well. How long?"
"Four years."

"Then you certainly must have had some valuable all-round experience?"
"Yes, indeed."

"What did you do all those four years?"
"I gave nut 239 the third turn."

Mud Day's

Hal Cockran's
DAILY POEM

THERE is mud upon the highways and there's mud wherever you walk. The mucky, running stuff is holding sway. No matter how much mother may explain or try to talk, the mud's the place the kiddies like to play.

You can dress up little sister in her garments spankin' clean. You can send her out to get the open air. In a short time, when you want her, find a muddy, mucky scene, and you'll also find that little sister's there.

Tough Tommy puts his boots on and he hies him out to play. He's the sort of child that's boyhood through and through. Every mother knows the story is the same one every day. Very soon you'll find him wading through the goo.

Even dad is rather guilty, for when nighttime rolls around, he will enter home as quiet as a mouse. Why the sneaking? Well, the answer to the question's always found in the fact that he's trailed mud all through the house.

All the family greets warm weather, with its touch of balmy air. Yet, to mother there is nothing could be worse. When there's mud and sludge aplenty, does it seem exactly fair that we all should make the springtime days a curse?

Symbols of Our History

The Delineator

There are thousands of women well as his home, Mount Vernon, and men in America who are entitled to belong to some one of our patriotic organizations. Many of them are perhaps not conscious that this right is theirs. It may be that some of your family fought in the Revolution, in the Civil war, the Indian wars, the Spanish-American war or the World war. If this be true you are entitled to membership in one of the societies commemorating these wars. It may be that some of your forebears were among the pioneers who settled the West. If this be true you have the right to belong to one of the most interesting, forward-looking groups in this country. Perhaps one of your girls was overseas with the "Y," the Knights of Columbus or the Salvation Army.

All of these groups have come together, not merely for social interests, but for fine, high American motives. Many historical dwellings and landmarks would have entirely disappeared and have been lost to history had it not been for the activity of the Daughters and Sons of the American Revolution. Museums all over the country have been enriched by priceless manuscripts, letters, pictures and ancient works of art contributed by the descendants of the old settlers.

The birthplace of Washington, as well as his home, Mount Vernon, was saved to the Nation by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The most colossal monument in all history, Stone Mountain Memorial, 1100 feet long and 200 feet high, costing several millions, has been made possible to the world through the sentiment and conservative activities of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

There is an immeasurable power for good in groups of people brought together in a sacred interest to their country. There is a common bond in the heritage of a history. These are the peace-time defenders of the Nation. And they have only begun to make their power felt.

What prouder heritage can you give your children than the record of the part, no matter how simple or how humble, which their forebears had in the making of a great Nation? In these patriotic societies the great-granddaughter of a Colonel ranks no higher than the descendant of that Colonel's orderly. It frequently happens that one whose ancestors served in an obscure way may be the leader in the present-day organizations. No where is our democracy justified and evidenced than in the evolution of the descendants of our early settlers.

NO. 8—WHY RABBITS CAN JUMP

MISTER PEG LEG and Nancy and Nick came to Doctor Snuffles' house and rang the bell.

Doctor Snuffles himself answered it.

"Ho, ho!" said he, rubbing his hands and looking over his spectacles at his visitors. "I see you've come to see about getting a new leg, sir. Well, I'm glad to hear it."

The fairy peddler laughed. "That's what I'm after, Doctor Snuffles, but not in the way you mean. I want to make enough money to buy a new peg leg, sir. Every one is wearing off too short. Everybody who buys from me helps me something, sir."

"You certainly can," said Doctor Snuffles. "I don't suppose many people refuse you."

"Yes, they do," said Nancy, speaking up. "Mrs. Bunny wouldn't buy a thing, just because Mister Peg Leg didn't have any Elbow Grease to help to clean her kitchen."

"Elbow Grease! Elbow Grease!" said Doctor Snuffles in a puzzled voice. "It does sound familiar. Yes, I am sure I have heard of it. It is supposed to be a very good cleanser, but I don't believe I ever really saw any."

"Oh, yes, and Mrs. Bunny said to tell you to please send her some salve to rub on her rheumatism," said Nick. "I almost forgot about it."

"Very well," said Doctor Snuffles. "I'll send some over at once. Poor Mrs. Bunny lives in such a damp place she gets very stiff."
